

Abortion

Have you ever wondered who created abortion in America? No, it wasn't created by a raging feminist group, nor was it created by a doctor who wanted to help women. Abortion was created by a group of white supremacists. These people were not fans of the black race and they supported abortion to kill off black babies. I am a black individual myself, so learning this nauseating information was horrifying to me. Abortion serves no good purpose for it was founded to kill off part of the population. Some people think abortion is their only choice and what I wish I could tell these people is that there is always another choice. Abortion is an awful plan of action and here are three reasons why.

The first reason people should not commit abortion is because it is murder. If someone were to murder another person that person would be thrown in jail, and maybe even put to death. When it comes to abortion though, we don't do anything about it. Some people even glorify it. What some tend to forget is that from the second a baby is implanted in your body it's a real live creature it's just not fully developed yet.

The second reason people should not commit abortion is because it's stealing from not only the child but from the world. My Mother once met a girl who had thirteen abortions. Thirteen unborn Babies, thirteen babies who never earned the chance to smell freshly baked cookies, or feel the sun gleaming on their face in the summer time. Thirteen children who never experienced sand under their toes or feel the morning grass tickling their feet. Thirteen babies who never became the doctors, teachers, firemen or lawyers God had meant them to be, because they were stolen from this world way too quickly.

The third reason people should not commit abortion is because there are better options. My birth mother was thirteen when she became pregnant with me. Thankfully, my birth mother chose to give me up for adoption rather than committing an abortion. I thank God every day knowing that she chose life and not death. She could have easily taken the easy way out yet she didn't. She chose to be pro life.

Abortion is murder. There are so many other options that are so much better. There are about 3,000 abortions every day. Those babies will never see their mommy's face. They will never fulfill the life they were meant to have. For that reason I am pro life, to make sure every baby receives the chance to be born
