

In 1973 the Supreme Court passed the law making abortion legal. The Roe vs. Wade case changed the course of American history for the rest of time. There are thousands of people who claim that the Supreme Court made the correct choice in making abortion legal, but I am one of those people who strongly disagree with the decision. I am pro-life due to the fact that I would not be here if my mother had chosen abortion as an answer. When I was one and a half I was adopted by this amazing family who loves and supports me in everything that I do in life. If my birth mother had chosen to decide abortion was the only answer, I would not be writing this essay or going to college.

I am pro-life because through personal experience I can say that abortion is not an answer to solve an unexpected pregnancy. There are many different options for young mothers who are not quite ready to be mothers. A mother can put her baby up for adoption, or give her child to a safe house. Instead of the alternatives given to expecting mothers, the abortion rate has skyrocketed since the legalization. There have been a total of 58,586,256 legal abortions in the United States since the Supreme Court passed the abortion law. That means there were 58,586,256 kids who have been killed and have not had the opportunity to experience life.

I am pro-life due to the fact that I believe that every kid deserves a chance to live a happy life. The number of babies killed each year through abortion is growing, causing the United States to lose the next governor, state attorney, or teacher of the year. By having an abortion you are taking away, "that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness.”(Declaration of Independence). The next child aborted could end up being a law enforcement officer, a doctor, or even a future president. By giving mothers the right to abort a child we have taken away the right of the child to impact society.

My birth mother decided to have my sister and me, and we are both striving to reach our life goals, and fulfill what God has called us to do. Psalms127:3 says, “Children are a heritage from the Lord, offspring a reward from him.” I have not yet met my birth mother or father, but one day I would really like to meet them and see why they chose life over death. I am very grateful that my birth mother decided to keep me and give me the best possible chance to succeed in what God is calling me to do.

Being pro-life defiantly makes you stand out from a crowd, but I am very happy and proud that I am pro-life. Though we stand out we are doing as God commands. God commands us to treat life with the upmost respect and love. By being pro-life we are giving kids a chance at life, and a chance to reach what God has called them to do in life. By outlawing abortion we could be saving the life of a future lawyer, surgeon, and a possible future president. The more we dig into the wrongness of abortion, chances are outlawing abortion is in the near future.
